

Russia May Be Testing Underground

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials speculated today that Russia might have turned to underground nuclear testing to try to set world opinion against any U.S. explosions in the atmosphere.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the new Soviet burst Friday, saying it apparently had been set off underground.

It was the first time the AEC had told of detecting a Russian underground test. All the previous ones announced by the AEC took place in the atmosphere except for one triggered underwater.

Why the switch from the atmosphere to underground testing? Some U.S. authorities guessed the Soviets were troubled by criticism of their string of fallout-spewing bursts last fall and figured that by going underground they would turn the world's attention to the U.S. testing program.

President Kennedy has said the United States might be forced to resume tests in the atmosphere to protect its nuclear weapons lead.

U.S. officials said, however, that one Soviet blast didn't make a case. Their speculation was based on the assumption the Russians would set off more underground explosions.

The Russians hinted at a resumption of tests Friday about the same time the AEC announcement was being read.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda, in an article carried by the Tass news agency, accused the United States and Britain of breaking up the 39-month-old nuclear test-ban talks in Geneva.

"The United States timed its refusal to continue the talks to coincide with another (underground) nuclear explosion in Nevada," Pravda said. "The talks are frustrated, but the explosions continue."

"It goes without saying," Pravda went on, "that the Soviet Union cannot remain inactive when faced with such a development. The Soviet Union will be forced to take reply measures and strengthen its defense potentialities."

The Geneva talks reached an impasse with U.S., British and Russian representatives unable to agree last Monday on how to end the conference.

The AEC's brief announcement of the new Russian blast said the detonation took place at the Soviet proving grounds in the Semipalatinsk area in Central Asia.

U.S. sources said the underground explosion was estimated to be in the intermediate range—a force between one and 20 kilotons. A kiloton equals 1-million tons of TNT.

American authorities surmised the test had been planned for before the Russians broke the three-year test moratorium last September with a series of 50 tests.

G. F. Golden, 88, Dies at His Home

G. F. Golden, 88, died early last night at his home on East Avenue B. He was a life long resident of Hempstead and a retired farmer. He was a member of Seventh Day Adventist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nannie Ramsey Golden of Hope; two sons, Leroy and Isaac, both of Hope; five daughters, Mrs. Cladio Hull of San Jose, Calif., Mrs. Robert Prince of Fremont, Calif., Mrs. Claude Bennett of Little Rock, Mrs. Dewey Hyer of Little Rock, and Mrs. Bobby Brown of Hope.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete and will be announced by Oakcrest.

Has Plates for $1,000 Bills

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Donald Fore, 17, has a printing plate for $1,000 bills—only it's for Confederate $1,000 bills, and it's for counterfeit Confederate $1,000 bills, at that, a museum official said.

Donald said he found the plate recently in a pig pen.

Way Open for Swing to Left

ROME (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani and his middle-of-the-road government decided to resign today, opening the way for a historic swing to the left in Italian politics.

Fanfani's 17-month-old Cabinet, all Christian Democrats, decided on the resignation scarcely 24 hours after a convention to their party voted to try a new kind of left-leaning government backed by Pietro Nenni's Socialists, once allies of communism.

Complete Cuba Embargo Next American Step

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is expected to announce shortly a complete embargo on U.S. imports from Cuba amounting to about $35 million a year.

The action will be the first here following the decision of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers to exclude Cuba from the Organization of American States and to take steps to combat Communist subversion in this hemisphere.

President Kennedy reportedly made the decision to crack down on imports following the return of Secretary of State Dean Rusk from the inter-American meeting at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

Rusk said Prime Minister Fidel Castro has been using the dollars to finance Communist activities in other Latin-American countries.

U.S. imports from Cuba in the first 11 months of 1961 ran to about $32.4 million. About 90 per cent of this was tobacco for the cigar manufacturing industry in the Tampa, Fla., area. The remaining 10 per cent was fresh fruits and vegetables.

U.S. exports to Cuba in the same period totaled about $13.6 million in food and medical supplies. It was understood that under the new decision Cuba would still be able to buy U.S. food and medicine.

The Kennedy administration has been reluctant to halt these exports lest such a move be interpreted as a blow to the Cuban people.

Trade with Cuba last year was but a trickle of the millions of dollars a year it once ran to.

In another action aimed at the Castro government, the United States will press its inter-American allies next week to agree on joint security measures to defeat a Cuban-based "Communist offensive" against this hemisphere.

What is needed, according to Rusk, is a plan for action "that can block Communist subversive activities before they reach the level of insurrection or guerrilla war."

Rusk told the nation in a television broadcast Friday night that there was a "mounting Communist offensive" in the hemisphere. He described it as a "systematic subversive attack spearheaded by the present regime in Cuba."

The OAS is due to meet here Wednesday to consider ways of carrying out the decisions of the Punta del Este conference.

The conference voted to exclude Cuba from the OAS, ordered an immediate halt in arms traffic with Cuba, provided for possible future economic sanctions and directed the OAS Council here to set up a five-man committee on measures to counter the Communist offensive.

Wants Health Money Spent Wisely

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., questioned today whether the hundreds of millions of government dollars being poured into health research are being spent wisely.

He cited as an example $1,201,925 allotted for a study of "the affectional relationship of the infant monkey to his mother."

This sum for a continuing 6-year study is planned at a time when the government "is operating on deficits reaching billions of dollars a year and running a debt of $300 billion," Byrd said in a statement.

He added that there are many other research projects he questioned and mentioned studies of the biological control of snails by shellcracker sunfish and of the diving reflex and volume receptors of the seal.

"It is difficult to be critical of health research," Byrd said, "but it seems to me that much more care should be exercised in the expenditure of taxpayers' money even in this important area."

36 Tons of Explosive Burn in Washington

Thirty-six tons of explosive loaded on two trucks caught fire in the heart of Washington just before Friday midnight and flames threatened to wipe out the town during the night. But the conflagration was brought under control — and daylight this morning revealed the smoldering ruins of two trucks and a barricaded Highway No. 4 as State Highway Department crews cleaned up debris and swept the road way clear of unexploded powder cartridges.

His Hobby Is Artistic Carving

By MARY ANITA LASETER

A different kind of art form has been created in Hope, thanks to an idea, a man, and his talent.

The results are three-dimensional pictures of carved birds that look real enough to fly. They are perfect in every detail of design and coloring and are the work of Billy Dan Jones. Though he has long been interested in art and, indeed, a "make-up" man, it is of a different sort than those in Hollywood studios. He is the composer at the "Star," which means he is responsible for the general "make-up" of the paper.

Ideas are born in the mind of man in various ways, and in the case of Billy Dan Jones (as he signs his pictures) it evolved from his reading a story about a man and wood carving he did. What he read was fictional, but our artist wanted to see if he could do a little carving of his own. He wasn't real sure what the results would be, and he didn't decide until later to mount his feathered friends sans-feathers.

Knowing that the best art is the least complicated, he concentrated on perfecting two birds, placing them on a "tree branch," and using a plain background and frame of plywood. Of course, the hand-painted, carved birds are colored according to their species.

Pine is used by Jones for carving these birds, and they are in 6x10 inch frames. They are so life-like that a person seeing one unmounted and not surrounded by a frame might wonder how in-the-world a bird got indoors without being seen.

Head of horses and dogs made of mahogany with an oil finish are also in his improvised workshop at his home on Pine Crest. Now wouldn't you know he would live on a street with a name like that? They are unframed, and he also has some birds that are carved but not yet mounted on plywood.

Married to the former Nell Cox, this local creator of life-like pictures has two very lively boys, aged 10 and 3. He is well-known in Hope, having lived here most of his life.

During the recent Christmas season, the three-dimensional art work of Billy Dan Jones was placed in a local gift shop for the first time. Have you seen his pictures?

Astronaut Is Visiting Home

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., was back home today, just another suburban husband and father for a few days.

The family was trying to keep life normal and out of the public eye for the time Glenn was here with his wife, Annie, and two children, David, 16, and Lynn 14.

The fire cut off telephone service in Washington, but help was obtained from a Southwestern Electric Power Co. radio car which shortwaved a message to company headquarters at Shreveport to notify Arkansas State Police, Hope Fire Department, and the Hempstead sheriff's office. A Hope fire truck went to the scene promptly and helped control the flames, which had set fire to trees and was threatening buildings close to the roadway.

The trucks, holding 36,000 pounds apiece of concentrated white powder were en route from the Naval Ordnance Depot at McAlester, Okla., to storage at the Shumaker Naval Ordnance Depot at Camden.

They arrived in Washington at about 11:30 p.m. Friday, and one of the trucks developed a flat tire, the other pulling up behind it to lend assistance. The driver of the first truck found a fire going on one of the wheels, put it out with a fire-extinguisher, and then left for Perry's Truck Shop, east of Hope, to get a replacement tire.

The flames broke out again, enveloping both trucks. The front truck, with the bad tire, rolled forward a considerable distance — accounting for the spread between the two vehicles as shown in the photograph.

Highway crews were on the job this morning cleaning up the litter, with the fire-gutted trucks on the west shoulder of Highway No. 4. Unexploded powder cartridges were scattered over the roadway, but state crewmen carefully swept the pavement clean.

W. H. Elter of Washington said this morning:

"It was a bad night. If that stuff had exploded instead of merely burning our town would have been blown off the map."

Reapportionment Briefs Ready

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state's brief in a legislative reapportionment suit will be ready for filing in the Supreme Court today or Monday, the attorney general's office said today.

Actually, there are two suits contesting the manner in which the state Board of Apportionment handled its duties as a result of a 1960 census. The Supreme Court, where both suits were filed as original actions, consolidated the cases.

The board took one seat from Mississippi County and added one to Miller county. Otherwise, the House lineup was left as it has been since 1951.

The suits contend the board should have added three seats in Polaski county and one in Jefferson county, and failure to do so was an abuse of discretionary power.

Filing of the state's brief would mean the Supreme Court can take the case under submission after a 10-day period for filing of a reply by the plaintiffs.

A decision is expected before next summer's Democratic primary.

Faubus Fills a $7,500 Year Job

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Robert Medlock of Little Rock will join Gov. Orval E. Faubus' administrative staff Monday.

Medlock, 37, has been a Revenue Department employee for the past six years. He is a native of Bethesda in Independence County and was Independence County circuit clerk in 1947-51.

Faubus announced the appointment today. He said Medlock would fill a staff position which has been vacant for more than a year.

Maximum salary for the job is $7,500 a year.

Names Judge for District in Louisiana

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced today he will appoint Frank B. Ellis, now director of the Office of Emergency Planning, to be a U.S. District Court judge for the Eastern District of Louisiana.

Ellis would succeed Judge J. Skelly Wright who has been named to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Kennedy also announced he will appoint Edward A. McDermott, presently deputy director of the Office of Emergency Planning to succeed Ellis as director.

White House officials said there is no connection between Ellis' leaving his present post and the pending investigations of the nation's stockpiling operations.

These officials said Ellis made known to the President as long as three months ago that he wanted to return to New Orleans, La.

Further, they said Ellis took part in the studies which prompted the President to call for a stockpiling investigation.

The Office of Emergency Planning, among other functions, directs the stockpiling program. Its other functions, since the Defense Department took over the major role in civil defense, include handling of federal aid in disasters, and planning for mobilization of industry in the event of war.

U. S. Type Conference Not Likely

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law said today it was possible the Kremlin may some day adopt the American presidential-type news conference.

The son-in-law, Alexei I. Adzhubei, editor of Izvestia, official Soviet newspaper, made the comment to newsmen as he and his wife, Rinda, left Idlewild Airport for Mexico City.

Adzhubei had attended President Kennedy's news conference Tuesday in Washington.

The editor said that after visiting Mexico, they would go to Brazil and then Paris. He declined to discuss the purpose of the visits.

Concerning reports that the Adzhubeis and White House press secretary and Mrs. Pierre Salinger might exchange children for several months, Mrs. Adzhubei said:

"It has not been decided, but I have nothing against it."

The idea being considered is that the three Adzhubei children would come to the United States to spend several months living with the Salingers, and the three Salinger children would go to Russia to spend a like period with the Adzhubeis in an "exchange program."

Earth Tremor in Missouri

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—An apparent earth tremor, but no damage, was reported here early today.

Richard Smith, radio dispatcher at Poplar Bluff district headquarters of the Missouri Highway Patrol, said the tremor lasted about two minutes.

"It was strong enough to shake the concrete floor of this building," Smith said. "It lasted for long for a sonic boom. It hit all at once and then gradually tapered off."

Smith said the tremor was accompanied by no noise.

To Draft 6,000 Men in April

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army requested today a draft of 6,000 men in April, the same total asked for in March.

Draft calls thus appeared to be leveling off after gradually receding from a peak of 25,000 in September as the partial mobilization program got under way.

Argentina Reverses Stand Military Rules

By FRANK MANITZAS

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—Bowing to military leaders, President Arturo Frondizi steered Argentina today into the ranks of Western Hemisphere nations that want Cuba kicked out of the inter-American system.

A government communique said the ouster should come "as soon as possible."

"The president thus reversed his country's soft stand at the recent Punta del Este conference. There were reports military chiefs had ordered their forces to stand by for action against the government."

An Argentine break in diplomatic relations with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government appeared certain. But informants said it would be done over a period of time. Frondizi Friday summoned home his ambassador to Cuba, Julio Amodeo, in an apparent first step toward a formal break.

A communique issued by the presidential palace made it clear Argentina would vote in favor of ousting Cuba from the hemispheric family of nations when the matter comes up before the Council of the Organization of American States.

At a meeting of the foreign ministers of OAS members in Uruguay earlier this week 20 American republics, including the United States, voted to condemn the Castro regime. But Argentina, along with Brazil, Mexico, Ecuador, Bolivia and Chile, abstained on a resolution calling for Cuba's ouster from inter-American councils.

Frondizi's communique pledged the Argentine government "will comply strictly and within all the resolutions adopted at Punta del Este."

The expulsion of Cuba "must be carried out as soon as possible," the communique said.

While Frondizi apparently had averted an open clash with his military leaders, the governments of neighboring Brazil and tiny Ecuador were facing criticism at home for favoring no action against Cuba.

In Brazil, conservatives denounced Foreign Minister Francisco San Tiago Dantas, who played a leading role in attempts at Punta del Este to go easy on Castro's government.

"We're sitting on a keg of powder," former President Juscelino Kubitschek said in describing upheavals touched off by the Brazilian abstention.

Terrorists set off dynamite bombs around the site of the Soviet trade mission in Rio de Janeiro.

In the Ecuador capital at Quito, conservatives joined two other minority parties in criticizing President Carlos Julio Arsenesena because his delegation abstained on the Cuban vote.

In Buenos Aires the military leaders had handed Frondizi an ultimatum demanding a reversal of Argentina's go-slow stand at Punta del Este along with the ouster of Foreign Minister Miguel Angel Carrasco, who headed Argentina's delegation.

Carrasco said, "I am proud of my military colleagues for the concern they showed about all these problems. The military chiefs made suggestions. There have not been any demands and this communique is the product of our lengthy conversations."

Routine Check of Publicity Books

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Joint Legislative Audit Committee will be asked to make a routine check of the books of the State Publicity and Parks Commission, Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today.

Faubus said such a check always is made when an agency changes directors.

The Parks and Publicity Commission has fired Director Ted Woods, effective Feb. 15, and named Bob Evans of Helena as acting director.

"If I were a new man, I'd want an audit so I'd know where I stood when I started," Faubus said.

November Death Rate Lowest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's death rate in November was the lowest for any November of record, the Public Health Service reported today.

The service's National Vital Statistics Division also reported a record low infant death rate for the first 11 months of 1961.

The national death rate for November was 9.3 for each 1,000 population, about 1 per cent lower than for the corresponding month in 1960, which was as low as had been recorded in any November.

The infant death rate for the January-November span of 1961 was 25 per thousand live births, compared with the previous low of 25.4 for the similar period in 1960.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — To be an egg noodle, an egg noodle must have egg in the noodle, says the U.S. government.

Or, as the Food and Drug Administration said after seizing and condemning 26 tons of noodles Thursday: "The noodles were 'unadulterated' in that the 'valuable constituent egg or egg yolk had been wholly or in part omitted therefrom.'"

The government said the noodles made by the Paramount Macaroni Manufacturing Co. of Brooklyn, N.Y., were labeled "egg noodles" but didn't contain the required minimum of 5 per cent egg solids or egg yolk.

The Lighter Side of the News

By DICK WEST

United Press International WASHINGTON (UPI) — On the stage against a backdrop of Persian minarets were three shapely angels dressed in black tights and doing a modified version of "The Twist."

That will give you a rough idea of what goes on at the Young Republican national leadership training school being held here this week.

It was enough to start an old time ward-heeler twisting in his grave.

I became interested in the school because of an announcement that the trainees were going to witness a political playlet which would "dramatize various types of ballot theft."

Moreover, it listed the producer and narrator of the skit as Mrs. Vera R. Glaser, a GOP publicity gal whom I had known for a number of years and had regarded as an honest, upright citizen.

Relieved By Explanation "What's this I hear about you teaching innocent young Republicans how to steal ballots?" I asked Mrs. Glaser, thinking that perhaps she had become a fugitive of the voting booth.

"You've got it all wrong," she replied. "We're teaching them how to recognize various forms of ballot stealing so that they can stop it."

Much relieved by her explanation, I stopped by the Persian room of a local hotel to see her production. The Young Republican magnanimously admitted me even though I am a few years over-age and a radical nonpartisan to boot.

On stage, Mrs. Glaser was flanked on her right by three young ladies clad in skin tight leggings, short white smocks and jilfos. According to the script, they represented angels. I am not qualified to say whether the costuming was authentic.

Political Symbolism Possible On her left were two sneaky looking chaps, one of whom was wearing a mask and was identified as "Benny the ballot thief."

There may have been a bit of political symbolism in the positioning of the two going out since the left side characters were not actually labelled as Democrats, it may have been purely coincidental.

Guided by Mrs. Glaser's informed commentary, the two fellows demonstrated a number of shady election day tricks, including "lombstone" voting, stuffing ballot boxes, padding registration lists and jamming voting machines.

After each example, the angels stepped forward and chanted Greek chorus fashion and remedies for such shenanigans. This was accompanied by twisting movements that were more in the Minsky chorus tradition.

I feel certain the Young Republicans found it edifying. As for me, my faith in Mrs. Glaser's integrity was fully restored.

Installers Return to Their Jobs

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Striking telephone equipment installers or the Western Electric Co. returned to work in five Midwest states today, ending a two-day walkout.

Lack of support by international officials of the Communications Workers of America was cited as the reason or the strike being called off. Top union officials said the walkout had not been authorized.

Pickets from CWA Local 7290 were withdrawn Thursday from Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. installations in Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota.

The local has 325 workers in 22 Iowa communities and they were called back to work.

CWA workers who install and service telephones and allied equipment for the Bell Telephone System have been involved in contract negotiations with Western Electric at the national level since Jan. 4.

The CWA has a three-year con-

Kookie Will Be in a TV Special

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Watch out, television, here comes Stan Freberg.

The kookie character from Pasadena makes his jump into TV with a special on ABC Sunday night. If there are any sacred cows in sight, they had better run for cover.

Stan is one of the nation's ace lampooners in an era when sensibilities prevent free exercise of the art. His touch is sometimes heavy, but more often deft and delightfully irreverent.

Until now, his principal fame has been in records, notably "St. George and the Dragonet" and his raucous recounting of American history. Now he is transferring his touch to TV.

Critics no doubt will compare him to Ernie Kovacs, since the latter's loss is still fresh in mind. The comparison is no more than superficial, each having his own nifty style.

Freberg showed me some of Sunday night's show and it appeared to have great promise. He was nervously editing the tape at KTLA. "This is the crucial time," he said. "My kind of show hovers between being extremely funny and a complete disaster. It could go either way."

Freberg is a TV pioneer — he was the original voice of Cecil the seahorse sea serpent. He has done guest shots but waited until now to do his own show. Why?

"Because I wanted complete freedom, not only over the show but the commercials as well. Most commercials are handled miserably."

IRS Suggests a Drink Aids Taxpayer

By RICHARD H. HOENIG

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A couple of drinks, an entertaining mystery story—and even the wife—could be a big help when you face up to that pesky chore of figuring your income tax this year.

At least that's some of the advice offered by the Internal Revenue Service to help reduce the mounting number of taxpayers who make simple mistakes in arithmetic on their returns.

"After you make out your form, put it aside, take a rest, go to the movies, or have a couple of drinks," suggested an official of the New York Regional Commissioner's Office of the IRS.

"Then, after a day or two, go back and check the figures. If everyone did this, we could cut the simple arithmetic errors by 75 per cent," he estimated.

"In most cases a taxpayer re-checking his figures immediately after putting them down will make the same error all over again," the revenue man explained.

How does the little woman come in—besides keeping the kids quiet during your aching session with pencil and eraser?

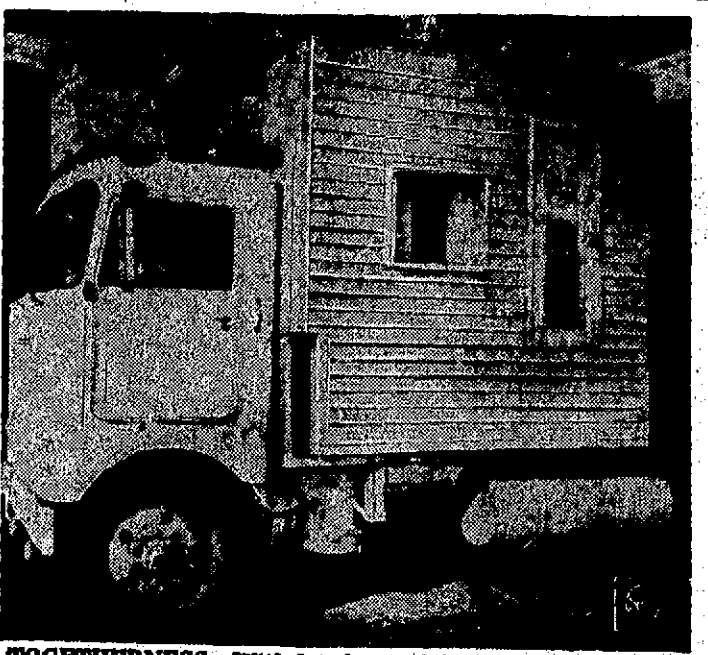

"Well, a wife can also help by checking the figures on the return," the Internal Revenue Service man suggested. "That provides an independent check of the mathematics, and you don't have to show your figures to someone outside the family."

Simple addition and subtraction mistakes are turning up in increasing numbers, the IRS has found. In the year ended June 30, 1961, some 2.5 million taxpayers made errors in arithmetic on their federal returns. That was up 2 per cent from the previous year.

tract covering about 16,000 workers in 43 states. The contract has a reopening clause after one year and a stalemate has been reached on money matters.

DOROTHY DIX Telephone Calls Rocked Matrimonial Boat

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: One evening, when I was eight months pregnant with my last baby, a boy, the phone began ringing. Neighbors had seen my husband with another woman! There I sat, rocking and fretting, till my husband walked in late, feeling no pain. He denied knowing the woman but, having lived with him 13 years, I can see when he is telling the truth and when he isn't. I cried all night.

Next day there were more calls. This woman was using my husband's name. Half-crazed with worry I went everywhere, trying to find out the truth. And still my husband denied all knowledge of the woman. Yet people said he had taken out insurance for her in his name. I checked with the insurance company. Sure enough, there was her first name and our last, with her address. When I confronted my husband with this proof he nonchalantly replied that, since our name was common, there could be a dozen or more of the same name. In desperation I went to see this woman at the address given.

It was true. She and my husband had been sweethearts six years, according to her. Then she decided to put him out of her life and that was that. I said she could have him back if she wanted him. She said she didn't. I asked why. She didn't reply. I invited her to my home but she never came.

That was more than a year ago but I still can't get her out of my mind. My husband says he loves me and the boys dearly. He treats us all very nice, giving us everything he has. I've lost my love for him but he seems to be falling all the deeper in love with me. People still talk. Should I love with a man like this?—Fuzzled Wife.

Dear Fuzzled: You're dealing in the present, not the past. If your husband is faithful now, that matters most. Few men are perfect. Dig into anybody's past and you'll find a purple patch.

Ignore the phone calls. Don't give troublemakers the satisfaction of knowing they hurt you. Somebody wants to upset you else they would let the matter die. If necessary change your telephone number to an unlisted one. Show your stability of character by taking this in your stride. After all, you've got three fine sons.

Dear Helen: I am 17, my fiancé will be 18 in March. His mother treats me as a daughter (her girl having died.) The father isn't too enthusiastic about me, believing that his son should date a different girl every night before settling on me. My parents approve of our engagement.

Last fall my boy friend's folks sent him away to college (I'm still in high school here). He couldn't stand the separation and came back. I begged him to finish his education. He says he won't until we can be married and return together.

I'm sure his Dad won't help him any more. Both parents will probably kick him out. This worries me for I hate feuding. How can we make them understand that we're old enough to take on responsibilities?

I've cooked, cleaned house, can sew, tat, crochet, darn and embroider. Once, when my mother was away I kept house for my father and myself three whole weeks. My fiancé has worked, has built his father a garage and has been a salesman. What to do?—Troubled.

Dear Troubled: By coincidence I was reading a New York Times survey on teen-age marriages just before the mail bringing your letter arrived. To quote, "Despite an increasing trend toward advanced academic training, family obligations of married students are slowing academic achievement. . . . The married man student may sight his studies to devote himself to a part-time job or give up further education altogether for economic reasons. Sometimes family responsibilities may force a student to accept any job immediately after graduation — and thus by pass the opportunity to specialize in a specific and often lucrative field."

This information was based on a Bureau of Social Research study of 400,000 1959 graduates from 1,200 institutions. If you love your fiancé, give him a chance to complete his education before taking on the added responsibility of marriage.

Dear Helen: My children are losing all respect for me because their father tells me, in their presence that I haven't a brain to think with so he has to think for me. This is the straw that's breaking the camel's back.—Tried Beyond Endurance.

Dear Tried: Your husband is completely witless, else he would never sell you short in front of the children. To do so is to destroy your authority over them and in the end, he will suffer. For, as head of the house, he is responsible for their misdeeds. If you don't speak up, it's your own fault. Read the riot act.

Nichols stood trial last October for the slaying of one of the boys. The trial ended in a hung jury. His attorneys contend he is insane. Nichols was examined by state psychiatrists shortly after the 1960 killings and was held to be "without psychosis."

Cubans Await Members of Red Party

HAVANA (AP) — Cubans are awaiting the announcement of a board for the United Party of Cuba's Socialist Revolution.

Sources close to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government said last week they expected the appointments soon.

The UPCS is the agency which Castro announced last July, 28—the eighth anniversary of his revolutionary movement—will merge all Cuban political and related organizations.

In identifying himself Dec. 2 as a Marxist-Leninist, Castro said the party was being created as an all-powerful political body to lead Cuba through socialism to "a people's democracy, or the dictatorship of the proletariat."

It "will not be open to every body, but restricted to proved revolutionaries," he said. "It will be a qualitative and not a quantitative organization."

Raul Castro, the armed forces minister, told a gathering of workers Thursday night at Santiago, Oriente Province, that a social uprising is coming in the United States and Cuba will have a great market and great friends there within a few years.

Five Perish in House Fire

COALPORT, Pa. (AP)—A fast-burning fire, apparently ignited by an explosion, killed a mother and four of her five young children Thursday night at their rural home in western Pennsylvania.

The father escaped with the oldest child in his arms by leaping from a second-floor window. Another daughter fell from his grasp and was killed.

The bodies of Mrs. Larry G. Thomas, 27; Sue Ann, 7; Karen Marie, 5; Larry Lee, 1; and Timothy James, born last Christmas Eve, were recovered several hours after the fire.

Mental Test for Accused Slayers

MARION, Ark. (AP)—A West Memphis, Ark., teen-ager charged with the shotgun murder of two younger boys will undergo further psychiatric examination Saturday.

Gurvis Basil Nichols' attorneys notified the sheriff's office that a private Memphis psychiatrist will examine the 15-year-old Nichols at the jail here.

Nichols stood trial last October for the slaying of one of the boys. The trial ended in a hung jury. His attorneys contend he is insane. Nichols was examined by state psychiatrists shortly after the 1960 killings and was held to be "without psychosis."

Wants Separate UN Membership

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has proposed separate U.N. membership for West and East Germany and for West Berlin, well-informed sources said today.

The proposal was advanced in one of the two documents given to Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow Jan. 12 when the U.S. diplomat met with Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the second of the current talks on the Berlin problem.

One paper, authoritative sources said, discussed Soviet ideas for changing the status of West Berlin to that of a free city.

The other document covered the Soviet concept of future association between West and East Germany on the one hand, and ideas on what links should remain between West Germany and the "free" West Berlin on the other.

The Soviet formula calls for a full political divorce between West Berlin and West Germany, and only limited economic ties.

Thompson had a third talk with Gromyko Thursday and is believed to have relayed Washington's reply to the ideas.

Repairs Made on Atlas Booster

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

John H. Glenn Jr.'s Atlas booster is expected to be repaired by Saturday signaling a resumption of tests aimed at rocketing him into orbit about the earth on Feb. 13.

Trouble developed in the Atlas fueling system Tuesday while the Project Mercury officials were preparing for a Thursday launch. The effort was put off until Feb. 13, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Thursday that this is still the target date.

The NASA statement said that repairs "are expected to be completed by Saturday and retesting of all systems to begin at that time."

Glenn is scheduled to orbit three times around the globe, landing in the Atlantic Ocean 800 miles southeast of here 4 hours 50 minutes after launching. NASA said no problems developed in the "Friendship 7" spacecraft as a result of the Atlas fuel leak.

British Defend Wage Freezing

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative government today defended its controversial wage-freeze arrangements and said it will continue a policy of restraint despite current strikes and threats of walkouts.

The treasury issued an official pamphlet stating the brake on pay increases, in operation since last July, is essential to the country's economic well-being.

National production has been rising at only about 2½ per cent per head a year, it said.

"It is accordingly necessary that the increase of wages and salaries, as of other incomes, should be kept within this figure during the next phase," it said.

The government has promised a slight easing of the policy March 31.

Says Newspapers Help Gambling

BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts newspapers are supplying racing and other information—"indispensable tools for organized gambling"—says a resolution adopted by the state House of Representatives.

The resolution approved in a 162-32 roll call vote Thursday, called on the state's newspapers to cease publication of parimutuel payoffs and the treasury balance on which some number pools are based.

As a House resolution it does not need Senate action.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar period as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours there after. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Refresh Your Soul Every Sabbath

Worship God In His Holy Sanctuary

"Oh, Come Let Us Sing Unto The Lord," For
There Is No Variableness
In God's Cause, Nor In His Justice, Then,
Come Let Us Go To Church

Change Works Its Corrosion Upon Us As We Approach Our
Rendezvous With Death
But, We Are Under
Sentence To Honor
God, To Ever
Support His Church

"the facts are

... the church needs you, John, and God won't let you get away with your record of none-support. At the moment, your business is flourishing but your church attendance record, your presence at Sunday School and your tithing performance are at low ebb. We judge a tree by its fruit. No mask can hide what you really are. A tenth of your earnings belong to God. Don't try to tip Him by giving less. He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good: and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God. Micah 6:8. Then help the church. Support the church.
Attend church. It is God's work shop for making a better man out of you . . . a better world."
